Card from Mr. Moore.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—I perceive that I have been misrepresented by the reports of the proceedings in the Convention in regard to an ordinance introduced by me on yesterday in respect to voters in the elections shortly to be held in the State. The cause of its introduction was this: On Saturday the ordinance for election was passed, and by it persons not qualified by the State Constitution to vote, were excluded from voting. After its passage, it occurred to me that many persons, recently come of age, might be excluded because they had not paid public taxes. To remedy this the ordinance of yesterday was introduced allowing those who might not have paid public taxes, to pay a poll tax before or on the day of election. This was the law of the Revised Code, and would have been sufficient, but there was no revenue law in force.

After its introduction by me, the ordinance of Saturday was reconsidered, and Mr. Love, of Jackson, moved (and with my entire concurrence was carried,) an amendment allowing such persons to vote without payment of any tax.

I respectfully ask of such papers as have misstated my position to correct it.

Respectfully yours,

B. F. MOORE.

Convention, Oct. 10, 1865.

We insert the above, not knowing whether our report was precisely correct or not. We are sure if it was not, that the omission or error was unintentional.—ED. SENTINEL.

Meeting of the Raleigh Bible Committee.

RALEIGH, October, 9th, 1865.

According to previous published notice the "Raleigh Bible Committee," in conjunction with other Christian brethren, assembled at the Presbyterian Church this afternoon at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a permanent Bible Society, auxiliary to the American Bible Society. The meeting was called to order by appointing Rev. J. M. Atkinson, President, and J. Womble, Jr., Secretary.

The following Constitution was, on motion, adopted:

ARTICLE 1. This Society shall be called the "Wake County Bible Society" Auxiliary to the American Bible Society.

ART. 2. The object of the Society shall be to promote the circulation of the Holy Scriptures without note or comment, and, in English, those of the commonly received version.

ART. 3. All persons contributing any sum to its funds shall be members for one year; those contributing one dollar or more shall receive (if called for within twelve months) a common Bible in return, those contributing fifteen dollars at one time, or twenty dollars at two payments shall be members for life.

ART. 4. All funds not wanted for circulating the Scriptures within the Society's own limits shall be paid over annually to the Parent Society, to aid distributions among the destitute in other parts of the country and in foreign lands.

ART. 5. The officers of the Society shall consist of a President, Vice President, Secretary, and Treasurer, whose duties shall be such as their respective titles import.

ART. 6. The management of the Society shall be entrusted to an Executive Committee of four, (or eight including the President, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer,) which shall appoint its own Chairman, and make its own by-laws.

ART. 7. It shall be the duty of this committee to meet frequently on adjournment, or on call of the chairman; to keep a good supply of books on hand; to appoint local distributers; to see that collections in some way are made annually in every congregation, and that all funds are forwarded early to the Parent Society, with a statement as to the portion designed for the payment of books, and that as a free donation.

ART. 8. There shall be a general meeting of the Society on the 2d Monday in October of each year, when a full report of their doings shall be presented by the committee (a copy of which shall be furnished to the Parent Society) and when a new election of officers and committee shall take place. Should the Society fail of an annual meeting, the same officers and committee shall be continued until an election does occur.

ART. 9. Any branch society or Bible committee formed within the bounds of this auxiliary, by paying over its funds annually, shall receive Bibles and Testaments at cost prices.

ART. 10. No alterations shall be made in this constitution except at an annual meeting and by consent of two-thirds of the members present.

On motion, T. H. Selby was elected President, J. Brown, Vice President, J. Womble, Jr., Secretary, and P. A. Wiley, Treasurer.

The following gentlemen were, on motion, elected members of the Executive Committee, viz: W. J. W. Crowder, J. M. Heck, Chas. Dewey and E. P. Battle.

On motion, Messrs. Branson and Farrar were appointed depositories for the society.

The 2nd Monday in October was, on motion, fixed upon as the time for holding the annual meetings of the society.

On motion, the Pastors of the different churches were invited to co-operate with the Executive Committee in carrying out the objects for which the society was organized and were requested to be present at the meetings of the committee.

On motion, the Secretary was ordered to request the papers of our city, to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

On motion, the Secretary was requested to write to the Treasurer of the American Bible Society, and ascertain how this society stands related financially to that society.

On motion, the society adjourned sine die, after prayer by Rev. Dr. Craven.

REV. J. M. ATKINSON, Pres't.
J. WOMBLE, JR., Sec'y.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Late on Saturday afternoon an accident occurred to the down mail train on the Wilmington and Weldon Road, when about two miles North of Rocky Mount. One of the cars, the negro car, jumped off the track and was thrown over on its side; none of the other cars were injured or thrown off. The only personal injury sustained was by a negro who broke his leg in attempting to jump off. The accident caused a detention of something like three hours

PLANTATION FOR RENT.

I OFFER TO RENT FOR ONE YEAR, OR LEASE for five my plantation in Pitt County containing between eleven and twelve hundred acres, three hundred of which are well cleared and well adapted to the culture of cotton. A part of the land has been well maried and manured, and not having been cultivated in two years will produce fine crops. The fencing has been destroyed, and the buildings much abused and for this reason I will lease for five years for one fourth of the crop, provided that the plantation shall be returned in good repair and that not less than 150 acres shall be planted in cotton any year of the lease. VEGETABLE HAIR INVIGORATOR,

IS LIKED BY ALL IN PREFERENCE TO ANY in market for ten reasons:

1. Because it invariably turns grey hair to its original color in the short space of four weeks.
2. Because it is clean and nice, and will not stain the skin.
3. Because it removes all Dandruff and Scurf, and is as harmless as water.
4. Because thousands are using it, and every body should.
5. Because it is peculiarly adapted to all classes, old and young.
6. Because it is purely vegetable—not a dye.
7. Because it kills hair eaters, and makes the hair luxuriant and soft.
8. Because it cures all humors and diseases of the scalp.
9. Because it arrests and prevents the hair from falling.
10. Because it is no humbug, but an honest article, as multitudes can testify; and if it don't prove as recommended, the money will be refunded.

THE DAILY SENTINEL.

WM. E PELL, Editor.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 12 1865.

OUR TERMS.

THE SENTINEL is issued every morning (Sunday excepted) at the following rates:

For six months,	$5.00
For one month	1,00
" two months	2.00

Our terms are invariably in advance. The scarcity of money however, obliges us to say to our friends, that responsible and prompt persons who desire the Sentinel need not delay sending us their names at once, who can send us the Cash in a short time. The money may be sent us by the Rail Road Conductors or the Express Company.

The State Debt.

The action of the Convention on Tuesday in reference to the subject of the public debt of the State, indicates, that it is not its purpose to discuss and act upon that matter during its present short session, but will lay it over for mature consideration at an adjourned session.

It would seem to us, that a moment's reflection, ought to impress every one with the wisdom of such a course.

First, it is the gravest and most important subject which disturbs and interests the people of North Carolina at present, or which is likely to interest it for some time to come. Our people very generally feel that they are ruined. The destruction of their property in slavery, leaving them in debt for slaves and other imaginary properties now wasted, with a heavy National, State and County debt to be paid by heavy taxation, without money or funds or products on hand to bring money, having comparatively nothing left them but their lands, which must either be sold or leased or worked with their own hands, or hired laborers, it is perfectly reasonable, that people in such a case will look to the Convention or the Legislature or the National Congress for relief. It is not surprising that thousands of our people should in this moment, in the height of their concern, yield to the temptation to desire not only the most speedy but the most certain relief. Nor is it strange, that they should listen to the strong temptation to seek relief in repudiation. Human nature in its extremity, seeks the first shelter from the storm. In their haste, like Lot of old, men would fly to Little Zoar, even though it would afford unreal protection.

Secondly, as grave a matter requires time for mature consideration, both on the part of the people and their legislators. Hasty action might lead to very different conclusions and action. We know that the sober, intelligent mind of North Carolina is entirely adverse to repudiation in any shape; yet if the question were pressed now, it might adopt it, to mourn and lament it perhaps for generations to come. To this day, the escutcheon of North Carolina is unsullied. Shall it be tarnished by her own people, in the height of her glory and renown for honesty and integrity?

Thirdly, a more competent body to settle this grave question, will hardly ever be assembled, than the present Convention. Let that body give itself time to investigate the whole subject, to consider the various plans which may be submitted, and then it will act wisely, and the people will sanction its action.

Again, the Convention owes it to itself, to hold over this grave question to an adjourned session, because of the bias which the approaching elections may have upon some minds. For this reason, it should be kept aloof from the canvass for the Legislature. It is a matter which deeply concerns our whole people, and therefore all sectional or partizan feelings, biases or prejudices should be removed from it.

What a fortunate thing it is for our people that the effort to continue Gov. Vance, with his rebel government failed! If that effort had succeeded we should have had civil war in nearly every county in North Carolina.—Standard.

We have no disposition to controvert matters of this nature with the Standard. It can certainly do no good to indulge in repeated flings at Gov. Vance. His hands are tied, and such allusions only serve to touch the strings of thousands of hearts strongly attached to Zeb. Vance. Moreover, there are 60,000 people in North Carolina, if not a great many more, who do not believe one word of the above. We beg the principal editor of the Standard, whose former relations with Gov. Vance are well understood, not to permit such notices of him, so purely a la Progress, to appear in his columns. If in the whirl of events Gov. Holden were to be placed in circumstances similar to Gov. Vance, or far less disagreeable, we would not for any consideration taunt and jeer him. Every such assault only makes Gov. Vance the stronger in the affections of the people of the State.

THE MAILS.—We are glad to be able to state that B. B. Vassall Esq., special Agent of the P. O. Department in this State, is authorized at once to contract for the carrying of the mails temporarily to each of the County seats in the State once a week. He requests us to state, that he desires to meet the delegates of the several Counties in the Convention on to-day and to-morrow at the Capitol, to confer with them upon the subject.

ADVERTISEMENTS.—We beg to refer the reader to our advertising columns in general and to new advertisements in particular. Our space forbids such a notice of each as we desire.

North Carolina State Convention.

NINTH DAY.

OCTOBER 11, 1865.

The Convention was opened with prayer by the Rev. J. M. Atkinson, of the Presbyterian Church.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Mr. Eaton, of Warren, from the Committee on "Limiting the power of the Legislature to increase the indebtedness of the State," reported "an ordinance concerning the debt of the State, hereafter to be contracted" [Provides that no law shall be passed to raise a loan of money on the credit of the State or to pledge the faith of the State for the payment of any debt, hereafter to be contracted, unless the bill for that purpose shall have been read three times on three several days before each house of the General Assembly, and agreed to by a majority of the whole number of members of both houses and unless the yeas and nays on the passage of the bill, shall have been entered on the journal.]

Mr. Manly, of Craven, from the committee to report what acts and ordinances of this Convention shall be referred to the people, made a report recommending the "ordinance declaring null and void the ordinance of May 20th, 1861, and the "ordinance prohibiting slavery in the State" be referred to the people of the State.

Mr. Pool, of Bertie, from the Committee to whom the "Freedmen's Address" was referred, made the following report:

The subject matter of the Address and Petition could be more appropriately acted on by the Legislature, than by this Convention. But the importance of the subject, and the necessity for careful and considerate action are so great, that it may be proper for the Convention to take some initiatory steps towards its adjustment.

The former relations of master and slave having ceased in North Carolina, new and material rights and duties have supervened, which require corresponding legislation. A large class of the population, ignorant and poor, has been released from the stringent restraints of its late social and political position, and from its dependence upon the individual obligations of another class for its support, government and protection. And it now becomes the duty of the State to assume, and enact such laws as right and justice may require, and as may be most conducive to the general welfare.

The abolition of slavery has been adopted in good faith, and with full determination that it shall not again exist in the State, either in form or substance. But the consequences of its former existence will inevitably affect the state of society for years to come. In consequence of his late condition as a slave, the freedman is ignorant of the operations of civil government, improvident of the future, careless of the restraints of public opinion and without any real appreciation of the duties and obligations impressed by the change in his relations to society. It is the interest of the white race, if he is to reside among us, to improve and elevate him by the enactment of such laws conceived in a spirit of fairness and liberality, as will encourage him to seek his true welfare in honest industry and the faithful discharge of the duties of his life. His intellegence and social condition must depend upon his industry and virtue.

Prejudices of a social character will probably forever exist. They are not confined to this State; nor to those states or countries where the institution of African slavery has been recognized; but have pervaded every society where the two races have been brought in contact. However unjust such prejudices may be deemed in theory, wisdom and prudence require that they should be so far recognized and respected by legislation as to avoid rash attempts at measures that might serve only to inflame and strengthen them. Although we cannot hope for the entire correction of many of the evils under which we now labor, yet time will materially modify them, and much may be safely trusted to its silent but effective operation. Hasty and inconsiderate action should be avoided; and above all things, should the delicate questions evolved from the new relations among us be kept from the arena of party politics.

There are, at present, in North Carolina, some real bonds of attachment between the two races. Families have been brought up and nurtured together under our former domestic relations—faithful servants have gained the esteem and confidence of their former masters and possess and reciprocate tender feelings of affection from those, whose infancy they have watched, and in the pleasures and sports of whose childhood they have participated. Their services and sympathy in affliction are remembered, and the dearest memories of the dead are associated and shared with them. From such ties, and from the common feelings of interest, justice and humanity, more is to be hoped for the improvement and welfare of impracticable claims for social and political rights, or from the aid of those whose interference is likely to be regarded with jealousy and met with resentment. We deplore the premature introduction of any schemes that may disturb the operations of their kindly feelings, or inflame the inherent social prejudice that exists against the colored race. The necessary legislation should be conceived in a spirit of perfect fairness and justice, and in full and unreserved conformity to existing relations. But it should be suited to the actual condition of the parties—and be aimed rather to their material and moral welfare and to the general peace and prosperity of the State, than to any theoretical scheme of social and political equality.

Those of our laws that are inapplicable to the changed relation of master and slave, and those that are in contravention of it should be repealed. And many new laws are now indispensibly necessary to meet the present condition of things. Those laws should be drawn with great care, and with the most mature consideration.

The committee therefore recommends that the Provisional Governor of the State be requested to appoint and constitute a commission of three gentlemen, eminent for legal ability, to propose and submit to the consideration of the Legislature at its next session, a system of laws upon the subject of freedmen—and to designate such laws or parts of laws now in force, as should be repealed in order to conform the statute of the State to the ordinance of this Convention abolishing the institution of slavery.

For the Committee.
JOHN POOL Chairman.

A resolution to constitute a Commission to prepare and report to the Legislature a code of laws on the subject of freedmen.

Resolved by the delegates of the people of North Carolina in Convention assembled, That a Commission of three persons to be appointed and constituted by the Provisional Governor to prepare and report to the Legislature at its next session, a system of laws upon the subject of freedmen, and to designate such laws and parts of laws now in force, as should be repealed in order to conform the statutes of the State to the ordinance of this Convention abolishing the institution of slavery.

Upon motion of Mr. Caldwell of Burke, the rules were suspended, and five hundred copies of the report with the ordinance, were ordered to be printed.

RESOLUTIONS AND ORDINANCE.

The following resolutions and ordinance were introduced and lie over under the rule.

By Mr. Jones of Davidson,

An ordinance for the election of Clerks and Sheriffs. [Provides for the election of Sheriffs and Clerks at the same time and places that the election for members of the General Assembly shall take place, and that said officers shall have all the qualifications heretofore required, and that they shall enter upon the duties of their office as soon as the Provisional government expires, and hold said offices until further provided for by the Legislature.]

By Mr. Moore, of Wake: A resolution that certain parts of the report of the Public Treasurer be referred to a special committee. [Provides that so much of the Treasurer's Report as relates to the adoption of some summary remedy against parties refusing to deliver State property or witholding funds placed in their hands for State purposes, be referred to a special committee of three members.]

By Mr. McCoy, of Sampson: A resolution requesting the Governor to correspond with the President of the United States in regard to the citizens and officers confined by the military authorities in Wilmington and Raleigh, North Carolina.

Resolved by the delegates in Convention assembled, That Governor Holden be requested to correspond with the President of the United States in relation to Neill McGill and J. Leonidas McMillan, citizens of the county of Bladen and members of the Home Guard, who are now confined by the military authorities at Wilmington on the charge of killing a deserter before the surrender. Also with regard to Captain Wilson, who was a Confederate officer and is now confined in the city of Raleigh, and use his endeavors to have them turned over to the civil authorities for presentment, indictment and trial in the respective counties where the offences are alleged to have been committed.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The "ordinance declaring what laws and ordinances are in force and for other purposes," came up as the unfinished business.

The section in regard to declaring that those persons lately regarded as slaves and now emancipated, who cohabit together as man and wife, shall be deemed to have been lawfully married from the time of their cohabitation and the issue reported to be born of such cohabitation shall be deemed to have been born in lawful wedlock and legitimate from their birth, was under discussion, and the careful and learned debate in which Messrs. Moore of Wake, Phillips of Orange, Wright of New Hanover, Howard of Wilson, Winston of Franklin Conigland of Halifax, McGehee of Caswell and Dockery of Richmond evinced not only much legal research, but great interest for the freedmen. The section was amended in several particulars, and was finally stricken out by a vote of sixty eight to forty two, upon the suggestion of Mr. Phillips of Orange and the report of Mr. Pool of Bertie in regard to freedmen, to refer the whole matter of a "freedman's code" to a commission.

The ordinance as amended passed its second reading.

Several delegates gave notice that upon the third reading they would offer amendments, and the ordinance will be reported as finally passed.

The resolutions (heretofore reported,) asking for a general amnesty of the President of the United States, for all the citizens of North Carolina not yet pardoned, were passed.

An ordinance introduced by Mr. Settle, entitled "An ordinance recognizing the just debts of North Carolina and prohibiting the payment of all public debts created and incurred in aid of the rebellion," with the adverse report of the Committee on Finance to which it has referred came up on their second reading.

Mr. Mebane of Alamance, moved to lay them on the table.

Upon this motion Mr. Thompson of Bertie called for the ayes and nays.

And the motion did not prevail.

Yeas 51—nays 62.

Mr. Caldwell of Guilford, moved to adjourn until 10 o'clock to-morrow.

Mr. Settle called the yeas and nays and the Convention adjourned.

Yeas 59—nays 55.

The Standard alleges as a reason for the republication on yesterday, of matters referring to the pardons of Messrs. Mordecai and Hawkins, that "the Sentinel has had so much to say about it," and "the action of the Sentinel." What will it not say next? The truth is, the Sentinel has never so much as hinted at the affair, since the publication of the Card.

Letter of the Hon. E. G. Reade.

We are permitted by the parties interested, to publish the following letter from Judge Reade to Dr. Deems, in regard to the new journal which the Dr. proposes to publish in New York—a letter creditable to the heads and hearts of both those gentlemen:

"Rev. C. F. Deems, D. D.—Your enterprise of The Watchman commends itself to the favor of every christian and statesman. The people of the sections have known too much of each other's faults which have been displayed with exaggeration, and too little of their virtues and affections, which greatly predominate but have not been made prominent.

Your position, attainments, and highly benevolent and christian character, are a sufficient guarantee that The Watchman will be used for the best purposes only. Please send me five copies for myself and friends.

With considerations of the highest regard,

I am very truly yours,

E. G. READE.

SYNOD OF VIRGINIA.—This large and influential ecclesiastical body, adjourned sine die on Saturday night last, after a pleasant and harmonious session of four days in Lynchburg.

It meets again at Norfolk, Va., on the first Wednesday in November, 1866, at 7½ p. m.

Gen. Slocum has made a speech in New York, advocating the immediate withdrawal of military force from the Southern States. The Democracy of the Empire State are raising on that distinct issue, among others, and strange to say, there is every prospect that they will sweep away the many thousands of republican majority without difficulty.

President Johnson's Speech.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.

President Johnson in addressing the returned colored troops to-day, whom he reviewed at the Executive Mansion, in a brief speech, he said that liberty did not consist in being idle and worthless, or doing as they pleased. There must be submission to law without regard to color.—Liberty was the glorious privilege to work, each pursuing a vocation of peace with industry and economy, and to enjoy the product of ones own labor. Virtue, honesty and intelligence were the standard to observe as their ruling principle; in brief if the experiment of taking the four millions lately freed and incorporating them into one system, did not work harmoniously, then they must separate as a distinct people. If the laws of Providence required they should separate, Providence would point out the way they were to take to the land of their inheritance, if there was one before them.

Gen. Banks for Congress.

The Republican Convention of the 6th District nominated to day Gen. Banks for Congress.

Pennsylvania Election.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.

The election returns from Pennsylvania show that the State has gone for the Republicans. The vote in Philadelphia was the largest ever cast, except at the presidential election. McMichael, Union candidate for Mayor, is elected by over five thousand majority. Hartranft Auditor General and Campbell, Surveyor General, were elected by seven thousand majority.

The returns from Cincinnati show that Gen. Cox, Union candidate for Governor, has carried Ohio by twenty five thousand majority.

MR EDITOR:—Since one of the objects of your exceedingly popular journal is to promote the interests of education in N. C. State, I have concluded to invite the attention of your many readers to CHIC AC COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

This school is located in LUMBERTON, Robeson county, and is in successful operation. It is under the immediate supervision of the Rev. P. H. Scovel and his estimable lady. The society of the village is good the community quiet, the location healthy and the accommodations.

This school was inaugurated in January 1865 and although we were constantly annoyed with the excitements of war and rumors of war; and disasters to our arms and wars; and threatened with depredations and visits by parties from Sherman's army, yet the school numbered during its first term over seventy students. Under the efficient and energetic administration of President Scovel and his highly accomplished lady, we confidently anticipate for this school a brilliant and successful career. Parents and Guardians would do well to communicate with Mr. Scovell before selecting other schools for their children and wards.

[Special Dispatch to the Baltimore Sun.]

The President's Reconstruction Policy—Admission of Southern Members—Pennsylvania and New York Elections, &c.

WASHINGTON Oct. 8.—P. M.—The speech just made by Gov. Morton, of Indiana, in support of President Johnson's policy of reconstruction is regarded as important in Executive quarters. His reflections against the Democratic party are matters of course, but he is strongly on the record against negro suffrage. A very prominent official of this city, who has been in Indiana some time back, asserts that the negro suffrage policy would be voted down in Indiana by from 60,000 to 100,000 majority.

Governor Morton does not condemn the favorite radical idea of excluding the Southern Representatives from Congress, but the idea is gradually gaining form her that the law of 1862 cannot exclude them primarily. It is not competent for a Congress to make a law to control subsequent Congresses as to the men that they will recognize as members. The Representatives who shall come here next winter from the South will not be summarily and violently dealt with.

Leading republicans here begin to express fears that Pennsylvania and New York will go against them in the elections that are at hand.

It is understood that the Secretary of the Navy is about to issue instructions, which will make mechanical merit the test of appointments in navy yards. Politics and political subscriptions and influences are to be excluded from the yards.

Yours, &c OBSERVER.

The Hartford Times says that the soldier's vote in Connecticut was given in nearly a solid column against negro suffrage. Some of the First Heavy Artillery were remonstrated with by the Republicans of Hartford for the way they were voting, when one of them replied that "every soldier in the entire regiment would vote No. except perhaps a half dozen of Governor Buckingham's pimps."

PROPERTY RESTORED.—The Vicksburg Herald learns that the property of Joseph E. Davis, Esq., elder brother of the President of the late Confederate States, located in Warren County, and the property of General Wm. T. Martin, of Natchez, Miss., has been restored to them; also, that the property of Jacob Thompson and General N. B. Forrest has never been touched at all.

The Tribune remarked a day or two before the late election in Connecticut, that "the honor of every son of that State demands that the laws be reformed," the said reformation consisting in granting suffrage to the blacks. As "that State" did not reform her laws by 6000 majority, we conclude that she don't pay debts of honor.

ADVANCE IN COTTON.—The China's advices which appear under our telegraphic head this morning contain information by no means unpleasant to cotton holders. It will be seen that the advance in one week was equivalent to some ten cents, (unprecedented) and the market closed with an upward tendency. Knowing ones are of the opinion that in the matter of cotton, the end is not yet, and that there is still money in the great staple.

During the past twelve years no man has left the office of State Treasurer of Ohio with an untarnished reputation. That officer handles ten millions a year, and is paid the pitiful salary of fifteen hundred dollars a year. And in order to earn this he has to find securities to the amount of six hundred thousand dollars.

LOUISBURG FEMALE COLLEGE.

REV. T. M. JONES, A. M., Pres't and Proprietor.

THE EXERCISES OF THIS INSTITUTION will begin on the second Wednesday in January, 1866.

Louisburg is a village seldom surpassed for health, intelligence, refinement and morality. It is in Franklin County, nine miles from Franklinton on the R. and Gaston Railroad. Between these points there is a daily stage line, connecting with trains going North and South.

The College building, located in a beautiful grove, on an elevated site, is large, commodious and well ventilated. It will be thoroughly renovated and fitted up with neat furniture and fire places in the dormitories. It is our purpose to establish for young ladies a school of the highest grade, affording superior facilities for the acquisition of a thorough and accomplished education.

With the advantages of a good library, a well selected Chemical and Philosophical apparatus, a competent Faculty, and large experience in connection with the Greensboro Female College, we hope, by a faithful discharge of duty, to merit a liberal share of patronage. Boarding pupils will live as members of the President's family. Terms reasonable, and will be made known in due time. Those desiring to send their daughters, will please address me, for the present, at Greensboro', N. C, and circulars will be sent.

REPUDIATION OF THE WAR DEBT.

Editor of the Sentinel:—SIR: As a citizen of the State having a just and becoming pride in her hitherto free and unblemished character for honesty and good faith in all her dealings, whether with her own citizens or those who reside beyond her limits I cannot but express my deep regret, at the disposition manifested by some of the members of our present Convention, to bring before that body, at the present time, the important question of the repudiation or non-repudiation, or if gentlemen prefer it, of the assumption or non assumption of what is called the war debt of the State. Surely there are matters of sufficient and all important moment, to occupy the attention of the Convention during the present session, which all admit ought to be a brief one; matters too which need to be acted upon with as little delay as possible in order to restore the State to her former status in the Union. This question important as it is, certainly is not of that indispensible character—Why then, this hot haste to thrust this disturbing question before the Convention which requires a great deal of consideration and is likely to consume a great deal of time? Why seek now before the question has been discussed before the people of the State and examined in all its bearings, before the facts necessary to a thorough comprehension of the subject, have been laid before them or before their delegates in Convention, to incorporate into our fundamental law a provision forbidding, for all time, the payment of any part of what gentlemen are pleased to term the war debt?

Who, Mr. Editor, with the information before us, can undertake now to say what is the amount of, or what constitutes the war debt proper? Do gentlemen intend to include in that category all and every part of the debt made since the 20th of May, 1861? Do they mean to deny that the debt incurred for the support of our civil government, our asylums, for meat and bread for our poor, for salt, &c., during the war, is a valid debt which the State, upon every consideration, is bound to pay? If not, how is that matter to be ascertained and what part of the debt is to be excepted from the prohibition? The truth is, Mr. Editor, this hot haste to get rid of a burthen, which may bear heavily upon us it is true, is unseemly, to say the least of it, and inappropriate to so grave a body as the Convention. The interests of the State can in no conceivable way suffer by delay: the debt is not being paid or any part of it likely to be paid soon, and to me it seems, (to all due respect be it said,) that gentlemen who are now in such haste to have a clause in our constitution prohibiting the payment, are afraid to trust the question to the sober consideration of the people.

Why not trust the matter to them? I have that confidence in the plain good sense of the people of this State, that makes me sure that if it should be done, they will take care of themselves and also of the honor of the State.

But it is said the debt was illegally incurred and is void. That depended entirely, as all who so insist admit, upon the success or failure of the cause in which the State, with great unanimity, embarked. It matters not whether we did so as secessionists or revolutionists—all, or nearly all, agreed that the State should take the attitude she did, and all, or nearly all, agreed either in convention or assembly, to the incurring of this debt.

Does it become the State now, or those of us who thus concurred in the making of the debt, to take the ground that the debt is void, because of our failure to make good our cause with arms, and thus refuse to pay the party who loaned his money upon the bonds of the State, relying upon her good faith and integrity? Mr. Editor, there was no such condition in the Bonds and none such implied—and call it what you will to refuse to pay (the State being its own judge,) is repudiation, nothing less.

But let us see how the thing would work in a case or two. The Confederate Congress had laid a tax and ordered its collection—all will admit that it had the power and the means of enforcing it.

In February 1862, our convention to release the people from the immediate payment of the tax, assumed its payment by the State, which was concurred in also by the Legislature, and the tax was paid, amounting to some fourteen hundred thousand dollars. But how was the money raised? By borrowing it upon the bonds of the State, partly of her own and partly of the citizens of other States. What justice or propriety is there in throwing this tax upon the whole State, upon the few who loaned their money in good faith, expecting its ultimate return—for a dollar was then a dollar. It was before the day of depreciation in the currency. But the debt is now said to be void, and the State under no obligation to pay it. Let me put a case by way of illustration. Suppose the tax had not been assumed and the tax collector had proceeded to exact our tax. A's part of it is $100. he has not the money and to save his property from being seized, he applies to B for the loan of that sum, telling him he wants it to pay the Confederate tax. B lends him the money for that purpose and takes his note. The Confederacy fails—B wants his money—A refuses to pay—suit is brought and A pleads that the debt was based upon an illegal consideration, viz: that the money loaned was in aid of the rebellion, and thus defeats B's recovery. Can there be but one opinion as to such a transaction, in North Carolina? I am sure not—and that would be, the man has saved his hundred dollars, but to do it has, beyond redemption, sacrificed his character. Yet where in a court of honor or of morals, will the cases be held to differ?

Again: A large amount of this so-called war debt, is due to the banks of this State. How did this happen? Our Public Treasurer was directed to borrow the money. By the charters of many of the banks, they were required to loan the State a certain portion of their capital when called upon to do so. This call was imperatively made by the State, and despite the remonstrances, loud and earnest, on the part of the Banks, these forced loans were made. Yet, honorable gentlemen now tell us these debts are likewise void, the money having been used by the State after it was obtained, for an illegal purpose. I know, Mr. Editor, there is but little sympathy with banks—they are but soulless corporations. But the stockholders in banks have the same feelings, wants and necessities as other men, and to take their property against their will and then refuse to pay for it, does not seem to me to comport with the honor and dignity of a great State.

I could cite other instances in which the proposed repudiation would operate with like hardness and injustice, but I forbear, seeing that this paper is already longer than I intended, and knowing the heavy pressure upon your columns.

Some gentlemen seem to think that the Convention having already voted the ordinance of 1861 to be, and always to have been null and void, that such a vote necessarily carries with it all the State debt created since that time. However this may be as a dry question of law, I submit that in equity and conscience, and in the forum of good faith it is otherwise. And here Mr. Editor, allow me to say that I cannot refrain from the expression of my gratification at the manner in which your journal has met this question.—The press owes a duty to the public as regards this question, and you have performed yours in a manly and independent manner. The weak, the timid or the time serving, may choose to float along with the torrent of error and be taken wheresoever it leads. The brave man and the just prefer rather to breast it and battle for the right, at the risk even of being overwhelmed and destroyed.

I was pleased too, to hear one member of the Convention, Mr. Caldwell of Guilford, say in his place on Tuesday, that when he became a candidate, he was warned, that unless he went for the repudiation of this debt, the people of Guilford would surely repudiate him, such being the prevailing sentiment. But he determined to meet the question and did meet it like a man, and the result was that he was triumphantly elected.—And so Mr. Editor, in my opinion it will be again, whenever the question is met and fairly put before the people.

I do not mean to say that the debt should all be paid dollar for dollar, but that the State should agree, when able, to pay a fair equivalent for what she actually obtained, when she issued her solemn promises to pay. For one, I wish no insuperable impediment to be hastily and incons derately placed in the way of a fair decision of this important matter, after a full and dispassionate consideration is given to it. Nor is it essential that we should now place in our fundamental law a provision forever forbidding the payment of any part of this debt, in order to show our disapprobation and abhorrence of the rebellion. That has already been effectually done by the action of the Convention.

Let us take care, lest in attempting to do more, we stamp upon the hitherto fair escutcheon of the State, a stigma and a blot in such indelible colors, that not all the waters of Lethe can ever wash them out. C.

If You are Threatened with Pneumonia,

Read the following from Capt. W. P. Davis, of Petersburg, Va.:

"Sympathy for the suffering prompts me to certify that my servant man was suffering in the last stage of Pneumonia, throwing up matter and blood in great quantities; his case was considered entirely hopeless, so much so, that there was no medical perscription used for his recovery; I regarded him as good as dead. Hearing of the great cures made by the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS, I thought that I would try an experiment on him; without any hope of success; however, I gave the Pills in large doses; in a short time, to my great surprise, there was a change for the better; I continued giving them to him, until he became a perfectly sound man. He is now attending to his work with as much strength and vigor as he ever did.—With his case, and what I have seen and heard of the good effects of these Pills, I do most earnestly recommend them as the best family medicine I have ever seen or used."

PLANTATION FOR RENT.

THE SUBSCRIBER, HAVING ENGAGED IN another business, wishes to rent out his plantation for the ensuing year. He does not want more than eight, nor less than six hands worked upon it. For this number of hands, the opportunity for making a crop is unusually fine. The chief crop for
is very good, and for
TOBACCO AND OATS,
superior. There are seventy thousand tobacco hills which may be put in that will make good tobacco without manure, and there is plenty of the very best tobacco land that may be cleared. The location is in a very fine neighborhood, three miles from Macon Depot on the Raleigh and Gaston Rail Road, and is one of the most healthy and desirable in the County. The residence contains six rooms, and there are all the necessary outhouses and a good orchard. He will sell everything necessary to carry on the farm—stock, crop, team, plantation implements, &c., &c. Address, or call upon
